Nature of work description

Description of processing

The following is a broad description of the way this organisation/data controller processes personal information. To understand how your own personal information is processed you may need to refer to any personal communications you have received, check any privacy notices the organisation has provided or contact the organisation to ask about your personal circumstances.

Nature of work – Charity (Local)

Reasons/purposes for processing information

We process personal information to enable us to provide a voluntary service for the benefit of the public in our local area as well as elsewhere as specified in our constitution; administer membership records; to fundraise and promote the interests of the charity; manage our employees and volunteers; maintain our own accounts and records.

Type/classes of information processed

We process information relevant to the above reasons/purposes. This may include:

personal details
family detail lifestyle and social circumstances

membership details
goods and services
financial details
education and employment details

We also process sensitive classes of information that may include physical or mental health details; sexual life; offences including alleged offences; racial or ethnic origin and religious or other beliefs of a similar nature.

Who the information is processed about

We process personal information about:

beneficiaries
staff, volunteers trustees complainants, supporters enquirers
advisers and representatives of other organisations

Who the information may be shared with

We sometimes need to share the personal information we process with the individual themselves and also with other organisations. Where this is necessary we are required to comply with all aspects of the Data Protection Act (DPA). What follows is a description of the types of organisations we may need to share some of the personal information we process with for one or more reasons. Where necessary or required we share information with:

beneficiaries
family, associates or representatives of the person whose personal data we are processing employees
current, past and prospective volunteers emergency services (ambulance, police) healthcare, social and welfare organisations local and central government other voluntary and charitable organisations

Transferring information overseas

- We may occasionally need to transfer personal information overseas. Where this is necessary this may be to countries or territories around the world. We are required to ensure that when we need to do this we comply with the DPA.

CCTV for crime prevention

CCTV is used for maintaining the security of property and premises and for preventing and investigating crime. For these reasons the information processed may include visual images, personal appearance and behaviours. This information may be about volunteers, beneficiaries, offenders and suspected offenders, members of the public and those inside, entering or in the immediate vicinity of the area under surveillance. Where necessary or required this information is shared with the data subjects themselves, and police forces.

Transfers

It may sometimes be necessary to transfer personal information overseas. When this is needed information is only shared within the European Economic Area (EEA). Any transfers made will be in full compliance with all aspects of the data protection act.
